POLICE ARREST 4 IN RAID ON THEATER SWEEPSTAKES

Squad of 9 Halts Operations at Palace; Action Criticized by Mayor.

EIGHT Marion policemen led and directed by Chief William E. Marks raided the Palace theater about 9:30 last night when a sweepstakes feature offered each week was in progress.

A crowd of more than 1,000 persons saw the policemen march to the theater stage and seize equipment used in the sweepstakes game just after the name of a person eligible for a $200 cash prize in the game had been announced. The raid temporarily threw the crowd into an uproar but within a few minutes the policemen left, and the theater program continued.

Police arrested George E. Planck, 37, manager of the theater, and three women employes, Misses Mary Alice Watts, 19, of 380 Owens street, Helen Donna Groves, 28, of 153 Blaine avenue and Ione Pearl Srieves, 27, of 310 West Church street, and took all equipment having any connection with the operation of the game, similar to those featured in theaters in many cities throughout the country and commonly called "bank night."

In an affidavit filed this morning, Chief Marks charges that Mr. Planck "did unlawfully establish, open, set on foot, carry on, promote, make, draw and act as backer for a lottery or scheme of chance to wit: sweepstakes night or bank night at the Palace theater, contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the state of Ohio." The three employes are charged with unlawfully vending, selling and disposing of tickets representing a number and interest in a lottery or scheme of chance.

The accused persons, represented by the law firm of Guthery, Streitz & Guthery, are to be arraigned Friday in municipal court. They are now free on bond.

The raid was made on authority of a search warrant signed by Chief Marks directing the seizure of any equipment used in a game of chance. City Solicitor Ralph E. Carhart said that within his knowledge the raid was the first made in Ohio to halt the sweepstakes game or others similar to it.

Controversy Started

The raid was quickly followed by conflicting statements, most of them from officials, as to whether the raid should have been conducted in the manner in which it was made. Mayor Frederick C. Smith and Mr. Planck criticized the raiders and said the tactics used were uncalled for. Chief Marks and City Solicitor Carhart defended it.

Criticized by Mayor

Mayor Smith, who learned about the raid a few minutes after it had been completed, called it "an insult" to the persons attending the theater and joined Manager Planck in criticizing the department for staging the raid at this time after permitting the game to be operated as a weekly feature for the last 16 months. Both also took exceptions to the "spectacular" manner in which the raid was made, both contending the game could have been given a legality test quietly. The mayor also called the raid a "purely political move," and said he does not believe the real purpose was to stop gambling.

Mrs. Planck, in a statement this morning said he is confident he can prove the sweepstakes, as operated at the Palace theater, is not a game of chance and that he will fight the case.

He also said he had gone to Mayor Smith and Chief Marks a number of months ago and informed them they need never raid the theater nor apprehend him if they questioned the legality of the game. He said he told them he felt confident he could convince them the game was not illegal and was ready to discuss it with them at any time. Neither mentioned it to him after that time, he said.

Chief's Answer

Chief Marks this morning answered the statements of criticism by declaring he acted in pursuance of an order issued to him last year by Mayor Smith to clean up gambling in Marion. The chief said he is carrying out the order "just as it gets to it." [illegible] Kentucky club and [illegible] raids in recent months as evidence of earlier efforts to carry out the order and said [illegible] of his department has prevented him from taking action against the sweepstakes earlier.

The attack on the sweepstakes game was made in the form of a raid rather than a warrant issued to get complete and first hand information as to the game and how it operated. The [illegible] chosen by the police department to make the raid, it is said, have been trained in police methods of raiding gambling establishments.

The raid was made in the manner it was [illegible] Chief Marks [illegible] Mayor Smith [illegible] Charles E. P. Palmer was brought to the hospital at 9:30 o'clock this morning, after a [illegible] and [illegible] to attend him.

The [illegible] Palmer [illegible] Mayor Smith [illegible] Controversy [illegible] Chief Marks [illegible] Ralph E. Carhart [illegible] Mayor Smith had not consulted him about the legality of the game in the investigation [illegible] the mayor said he had made several months ago.

Plans Carefully Made

The raid, carefully planned in advance by Chief Marks with policemen assigned to enter the theater at three places simultaneously, was timed to break at the moment when the sweepstakes game reached its climax.

The name of a Marion woman entitled to a $200 first prize had just been read, following the showing of a race film used for determining the winner, when the police entered.

Groups of three entered the theater front two doors on the west side, which had been opened by another policeman stationed inside in plain clothes to await the climax of the sweepstakes game so that all equipment would be in use at the time of the raid.

Persons in the crowd caught their breath when they saw policemen file toward the stage, walk on the stage where Mr. Planck had just read the name of the first prize winner and take him and three others into custody. As the policemen pursued their work of gathering up equipment used in the game, there was first a hushed silence in the audience and then boos and jeers began. Several persons called to police, asking them why they didn't "start on other places if they really wanted to clean up Marion." There were other jibes as the policemen proceeded.

All Details Carried Out

Following out plans made in advance, six policemen went to the stage to get the operators and equipment in use there. In this group were Chief Marks, Capt. E. C. Meehan and Patrolmen Andrews, Kirk Smith and Norton. Desk Sergeant L. E. Reardon let them in the west side doors after awaiting the climax of the game. Patrolmen Underhill and Acting Capt. Bart Yonkam went in the front entrance, Underhill going directly to the projection booth and seizing the race films used exclusively for the sweepstakes game and Yonkam taking tickets, records and receipts at the box office. Patrolmen Cunningham and Colfey, summoned to look after traffic in front of the theater while the others carried the confiscated

SENATE VOTES BILL TO PLUG TAX LEAKS

Measure Sent Back to House To Iron Out Minor Changes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—The senate passed today the administration's tax avoidance bill, designed to plug loopholes through which the government has lost, [illegible] $100,000,000 [illegible] annually.

Approved after a brief and [illegible] per (normal) [illegible] corporations, [illegible] back to the house for [illegible] of minor [illegible]

Chairman Harrison, [illegible] Democrat, of Mississippi, [illegible] the senate finance committee, [illegible] the measure would [illegible] the use of corporate surplus [illegible] to escape taxes.

The bill was adopted without a record vote a few minutes after the senate convened. Not a single provision was questioned. Then Senator Bridges Republican of New Hampshire, offered an amendment to direct the joint congressional committee on taxation to make a study of federal, state and local tax systems, with a view to eliminating duplication and discovering new sources of revenue.

Senator Harrison, however, [illegible] Bridges' proposal [illegible] that [illegible] already was under way, and that [illegible] would be ready for preliminary report.

Roosevelt Fights Back After Congress Defeat

Selection of Liberal Black For Court Followed by Smashing Onslaught Against "Tory" Foes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—President Roosevelt's aggressiveness since the collapse of his legislative program—evidenced anew in his Roanoke island speech—emphasized anew the potentialities of the split which has developed within his party during this session of congress.

The chief executive followed up his selection of liberal Sen. Black, (Democrat of Alabama), for the supreme court with a fighting speech yesterday at Roanoke island in which he characterized his critics as "American Lord Macaulays" who do not believe in democracy.

These two developments within the past week culminated a series of events which have completely changed the political picture since the President began his second term seven months ago today.

Leadership Shifts

The Black appointment itself was evidence of the changing political scenes. It topped off a sudden shift in senate leadership, in which the death of Sen. Robinson of Arkansas was only a part.

At the outset of the session, Robinson and Sen. Harrison of Mississippi and Byrnes of South Carolina were the acknowledged senate leaders and Roosevelt spokesmen on Capitol Hill.

Suddenly, younger and more liberal senators took their places, Barkley of Kentucky became the majority leader by one vote over Harrison, and Sen. Schwellenbach of Washington and Minton of Indiana, together with Black, formed a new inner circle.

The session began with 76 almost united Democrats forming the biggest party majority the senate ever had seen. It is ending with 75 Democrats divided into nearly equal factions on some of the Roosevelt proposals.

Thus the Democrats on some issues have turned the balance of power over to the numerically weak Republican minority, not only in the senate, but in the house.

Even Vice President Gardner's status has changed. At the outset he was regarded as a stalwart behind-the-scenes negotiator for all presidential policies. Although still friendly and loyal to the President, he has been the spearhead of opposition to some administration plans.

President Roosevelt's court reorganization proposal is credited generally with creating the party friction. But close observers have noted many contributing causes, some nearly as fundamental.

Harrison and Byrnes supported the court bill, but they along with Garner and others in the party were critical of the President's handling of the sit-down strike problem and the labor situation during the winter.

Crash Over Spending

They clashed also with the President on his spending policies, first in private and when that failed to gain results in public.

The "last straw" for many of the critical Democrats, particularly those from the southern wing of the party was that wage-hour bill. It drew from the lips of Harrison the first caustic criticism of Roosevelt policies he ever had uttered in public.

The court row did not develop the factionalism in the house that it did in the senate where it centered. But the wage-hour bill did. It was blocked in the powerful house rules committee usually an administration adjunct by a combination of southern Democrats and Republicans.

Despite the support of some who later broke with him on other issues the President was able to muster the support of only half the Democrats on the senate judiciary committee for his court bill. On the floor the division was almost even at the time the measure was sidetracked.

CHINESE HURL JAPANESE BACK

Threaten To Split Invading Forces in Two and Push Them Into Whangpoo River.

NIPPON LINES SHATTERED

Tanks and Armored Cars Rushed Into Battle To Bolster Bluejackets.

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19—Japan's heavily reinforced army was in imminent danger of being split in two and driven back into the Whangpoo river tonight by a surging Chinese drive, while Japanese bombs rained on an American mission.

After fighting off a full day of repeated Japanese stab attacks the Chinese thrust a powerful wedge into the broken Japanese lines, pushing their foe to within 500 yards of the murky river.

The Japanese positions were shattered just a mile below the Astor House hotel in the heart of the Japanese area of the International settlement.

Japs At Bay

With the water at their backs the Japanese were battling hard to keep from being cut in two. Tanks and armored cars were rushed into the area to bolster the Japanese bluejackets who were slowly but relentlessly being forced to give ground.

The Chinese thrust came amid Japan's first major offensive in the Kiangwan area of north Shanghai were Shanghai's great civic center is located. There, the Chinese apparently were holding their own against Japanese infantry, artillery, naval and air attacks.

Heavy reinforcements of regular army troops from Japan hearkened the attackers in this sector. Seven transport loads of men, munitions and artillery were landed at the Yangtzepoo docks in the Japanese sector of the international settlement; sixteen Japanese troopships, carrying 20,000 men, lay off the mouth of the Yangtze, ready to disembark their fighters under the guns of Japanese destroyers.

Seek To Bar Help

The Japanese sought to cut off the Chinese in Shanghai from help from the Yangtze, to the north. There were reports that 300,000 Chinese were concentrated at Nanking, the capital up the Yangtze, to reinforce the more than 100,000 already fighting about 25,000 Japanese bluejackets here.

Japanese air bombs missed their mark and smashed at the American Southern Baptist mission in the Chapel quarter in north Shanghai and at the American mission hospital at Nantungchow, up the Yangtze in Kiangsu province. The mission suffered heavily, and the fate of its 20 Americans was not known. The bombs apparently were aimed at a power house.

The international radio station at Chenju, near Shanghai, also was air-bombed, without important damage.

From north China came word of a Japanese advance five miles up Nankow pass, the gateway to Chinese provinces Japan has not conquered.

In the south, a cholera epidemic spread in the British crown colony of Hongkong.

American consular authorities took a firm stand against a Japanese naval plan to take complete control of the river Whangpoo, by

TWO HURT IN BLAST AT OSGOOD CO. PLANT

Taken to Hospital After Explosion of Gas Tank in Assembly Room.

Two workmen were injured at the Osgood Co. this morning when an apparently empty gasoline tank exploded, while they were using an acetylene torch in assembling a power shovel. The men, John R. Severns, about 48, of 155 Brenner court, and Sherman A. Baker, about 30, of 238 East Washington street, were rushed to the city hospital in the W. D. Boyd ambulance.

Severns suffered a fractured ankle and was the most seriously injured, attendants reported. Both men were scorched by the flash of fire when the tank exploded, it was reported. Although the extent of their injuries is not definitely known, they were not thought to be in serious condition, it was reported at the City hospital.

Both men were on the tank and were using the torch to cut a hole in a portion of the shovel structure, above where they were standing. Fumes in the tank, expanding from the heat of the torch, were thought to have been responsible for the explosion.

The blast threw both men into the air, and was of such force that it knocked their shoes from their feet. Both fell to the ground and were given first aid by fellow workers until the arrival of the ambulance.

SLUM CLEARING WINS IN HOUSE

Lower Chamber Drastically Changes Loan Provisions Voted by Senate.

ADJUSTMENT NEEDED

Measure Approved 274 to 86 About Last Hurdle For Present Session.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—House passage of the $528,000,000 low cost housing program removed today the last big controversial feature of the waning congressional session.

The senate bill, authorizing federal loans and grants for state and municipal housing projects, was changed drastically by the house before it voted approval last night, 274 to 86.

As a result, a committee must adjust the differences in the house and senate versions before the bill can go to the White House. A wrangle was in prospect, but sponsors expressed certainty an agreement would be reached.

Others Given Up

The housing program was the final measure on the Roosevelt program which Democratic leaders decided could be salvaged. Much of the administration legislation—crop control, wage-hour, and government reorganization—has been deferred to the next session.

The only important task remaining before adjournment, aside from the housing agreement, was senate passage of the bill to make $98,000,000 deficiency appropriations. Little opposition was in sight, strengthening predictions that the session would end Saturday night.

It took the house nine hours to debate the housing measure, which opponents—mostly Republicans and some Democrats—contended would aid the cities at the expense of rural sections. In brief, the measure as passed by the house provides:

Loans to state and municipal agencies for developing low-rent housing or slum clearance projects, with communities putting up 15 per cent of construction costs. The sen-

DUFFY FIGHTS RETENTION OF PAROLE BOARD HEAD

Tells Davey Dougan's Presence "Inimical to Best Interests of Ohio, and Hampers Inquiry."

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy, who has been investigating activities of the state parole board, informed Gov. Martin L. Davey today he was convinced that the continued presence on the board of Chairman Leland S. Dougan "would be inimical to the best interests of Ohio."

The attorney general also asserted in a letter to the governor that he believed Dougan's reappointment "will materially hamper and obstruct the completion of the investigation which you asked me to make."

Dougan's term expired Monday, and Duffy said his letter was prompted by a statement of the governor indicating he did not expect to fill the vacancy until the parole investigation was completed.

The attorney general's investigation was requested by the governor after two members of the parole board, later joined by Dougan, suggested an inquiry into newspaper reports of political influence in granting paroles.

Duffy, investigating secretly, conferred with officials and inmates of Ohio penitentiary and with Arch W. Naylor, named in the newspaper articles as a "pardon broker" and a friend of Dougan.

The board chairman said he welcomed the investigation and denied that any political influence was responsible for granting paroles.

Duffy wrote to the governor today:

"Manifestly, I can not divulge evidence I have already gathered. Of course, I do not assume to volunteer to you any advice as to your course in making a reappointment of Mr. Dougan to fill the vacancy.

While I recognize this matter is entirely within your own discretion, I nevertheless feel it my duty to disclose to you, for such use as you may see fit to make of it, my conviction that Mr. Dougan's continuance on the parole board would be inimical to the best interests of Ohio and his reappointment will materially hamper and obstruct the completion of the investigation which you asked me to make."

A high temperature of 92 degrees was recorded here yesterday for the second day of temperatures above 90 degrees. Tuesday the high temperature was 94, to match the high mark of the year.

Soy Bean Day Program Set for Next Tuesday

Exhibition Car and Talks on Culture Will Mark Event; Group Will Inspect Mill Here.

A one-day soy bean program for residents of Marion county and nearby counties has been arranged for Tuesday through the cooperation of the American Soybean association, the county farm agent's office and Old Fort Mills, Inc., Marion's soy bean processing plant.

The program will start with inspection of a tract opposite the mausoleum on the Mt. Gilead road where patches containing six varieties of soy beans will be inspected. This is set for 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

From 10:30 to 11:30, attention will be centered on a soy bean exhibit car of the Pennsylvania railroad, to be opened to the public at the Pennsylvania siding on West Center street.

From 11:30 to 12:30 will be given over to an inspection of the plant of Old Fort Mills, Inc., the Marion soy bean processing plant, with the tour in charge of P. Turner, president of the company.

In the morning at the plot on the Mt. Gilead road three talks will be given. The speakers will be C. A. Holland, vice president and secretary of Old Fort Mills; Prof. J. B. Park, head of the farm crops department at Ohio State university and vice president of the American Soybean association, and Prof. J. A. Slipher of the extension service of the Ohio State university college of agriculture.

The talks will cover the subjects of the industrial market for soybeans, the fertility value of soybeans and their place in the cropping rotation, and on growing the soybean crop.

Mr. Holland and speakers from the university also will appear in soybean programs to be given at Upper Sandusky on Aug. 24 following the Marion meeting and Dunkirk on Aug. 26.

The soybean exhibit car to be shown here is one of the air-conditioned passenger coaches fitted for exhibition purposes. Soybean oil is used in the core sand in the railroad shop foundry. The roof of the car is painted with brown soybean paint, the sides with soybean red paint and finished with soybean varnish. The trucks of the car are painted with black soybean paint.

Throughout the car, soybean products are shown. The door knob is made of soybeans, and columns for an arch in the car is of the same material. The car has been finished with plywood put together with soybean glue. It requires 50,000 acres of soybeans annually to supply the glue for the country's plywood industry.

History Recorded.

One section of the car is devoted to the early history of the soybean in the Orient. A map shows where soybeans are grown and the location of processing plants. The car's exhibits follow through the production, processing and marketing of soybeans and shows the variety of uses for both the soybean oil meal and the soybean oil.

The car started on tour Aug. 10 at New Brunswick, N. J., and will end its tour at the American Soybean association's annual meeting at Urbana, Ill., Sept. 14-15-16.

MARION AIRPORT DAY PROGRAM ARRANGED

Event Will Include Stunt Flying and Parachute Jump Sunday.

The Marion airport, now in its seventh summer of operation, will present a special program Sunday in observance of "Marion Airport Day," it was announced today by Harold Cobb, operator of the port.

Sunday's program will start at 10 a. m. and will include passenger flying, stunting and two parachute jumps. Admission to the port will be free.

The parachute jump will be made at 1 and 4 p. m. by Dave Binns of Columbus and will intersperse an afternoon program of acrobatic flying by four Marion pilots and a Richwood flier.

Cobb said five Marion planes and a Richwood-owned ship are now kept at the airport, representing the largest number of locally owned ships ever reached here. He said this fact, along with others, reflects a marked increase in interest in flying in this area.

Another evidence of increasing interest, Cobb said, is the fact that 12 students have learned to fly so far this year at the local port. All of the 12 have made solo flights.

The Marion and Richwood plane owners are:

Donald Gilbert of Bellefontaine avenue, owner of Curtiss Robin cabin plane and holder of a transport pilot's license, obtained after completing instruction from Cobb; Clyde Barnhard of Davids street, owner of a Stinson-Detroiter cabin plane; Henry Miller of south of Marion on route 23, owner of an Aeronca C-2 open cockpit plane; Harold Cobb, port operator, owner of an Aeronca C-3, used for primary instruction, and a Heat Warrior Argo, open cockpit, used for advanced training, and Gerald Gray of Richwood, owner of a Hess Warrior Argo open cockpit plane.

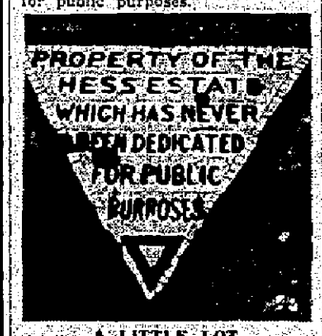
But Thousands Trespass on New York's Tiniest Lot

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—The smallest parcel of real estate in this city, a triangle only two feet on each side, bears this inscription: "Property of the Hess estate which has never been dedicated for public purposes."



A LITTLE LOT

The triangle containing the inscription is part of the sidewalk on a Greenwich Village corner. It is necessary to "trespass" on it in order to enter the busy cigar store that stands there. The store tenant pays the Hess estate for the use of the triangle, and the estate pays the city a tax on the parcel of land.

ATHLETE'S FOOT AND RINGWORM

When troubled with either of these ailments you want proof of what a remedy will do for you. You do not want selling "claims". Mr. Wm. Gehm, 1274 Clifton Prado, Lakewood, Ohio, writes:

"I suffered for over ten years with a severe case of Ringworm. I tried many remedies without effecting a cure. After several treatments of BROADY'S OINTMENT my feet were completely cured." For Sale at Rexall Drug Store.

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADELE GARRISON

Lillian, Madge, Nell Start on Trip in Limousine.

HARRY UNDERWOOD'S face was the picture of pathetic conjugal martyrdom as he put his query as to what we meant to do with the cars. But Lillian and I, who know and enjoy his buffoonery, read beneath his mask of dolor his entire willingness to act as a combination of guard and nursemaid to those small sinners, Junior and Roderick, of whom he is genuinely fond. We knew that both he and the boys would have an enjoyable time during our absence.

"The problem isn't a weighty one," I said lightly. "Dicky has one of our cars, so that leaves the other, and your limousine in camp. Bill and Hank will probably want to show the girls some of the surrounding country, and I think they'd better take our smaller car—there'll be less risk. Lillian, Mrs. Gibbs and I will take the limousine down to Laconia for a shopping trip we've planned for this morning."

"Why not give the kinds a break and let them take the limousine?" the big man suggested generously.

"Not a chance!" I told him with decision. "They'll be driving up narrow mountain roads and down again, exploring all the beauty spots for miles around. The small car, which is getting along in years and paint, can't be hurt, no matter where they go, whereas the limousine might get terribly scratched, besides being harder to turn in narrow spaces. Lillian, Mrs. Gibbs and I, on the contrary, won't be off the main road."

"All right," he conceded, "have it your own way. You will, anyway."

Prepare to Leave

"Glad you know us so well," his wife told him smugly, and then we separated, Harry to look after the small boys, while Lillian and I dressed for the excursion which was so intriguing our imaginations. Marion and Carolyn were putting the final touches to outfits calculated to turn the heads of Hank and Bill, already well loosened from their sockets.

We had risen so early that we did not need to hurry. We breakfasted leisurely on the veranda overlooking the lake, strolled over to the main camp, and then drove the limousine down to the Gibbs home, arriving there at nine o'clock.

Nell Gibbs Surprised

Nell Gibbs was just getting into her car, and she left it and came over to us with quizzical inquiry.

"How come?" she said. "Do you mean we travel in this palatial chariot? I thought we were to go in my old boat."

"You are really being quite Chinese," I told her merrily.

"It's simply a matter of common sense," Lillian said. "My husband is taking care of the two small boys and won't need a car, and the four young people have one of the Graham cars. Mr. Graham has the other, and you probably will be amused to know—you being in on this—that he drove to Canada last night."

"My word!" Nell Gibbs exclaimed. Then her eyes narrowed with concern.

"Don't tell me those Canadian boys found you after all the good ground work I got in!"

I looked at my wrist watch, and threw open the car door beside me.

"No, they didn't, but it was a near thing. Jump in, and we'll exchange stories as we go along. We're not late, but we shan't have any extra time."

Lillian Relates Story

"That's all right by me," she said gaily, as she climbed into the seat beside me. "Tell your story first."

"Lillian!" I appealed. "Please. You know I don't like to talk while I'm driving."

"Nor do your friends like to have you," she retorted with an impudent grin, and then plunged into the saga of the adventures of the night before—that is, as far as including the Canadians was concerned. Characteristically, she said nothing of the orchestra men or the young gunmen who had turned our pleasant outing into something perilously like a nightmare.

But she did relate to Mrs. Gibbs, with gusto, the action of the girls in letting the older people go the limit in keeping the knowledge of the Canadians from them, the while they themselves had recognized the car of the young collegians.

Marion Team in Mansfield To Meet League Leaders

GEYGANITES NOW IN SECOND PLACE, SIX GAMES BEHIND SOX

Ohio State League Season To End Labor Day; Playoff Plans Made.

Marion's baseball club, idle yesterday, will swing into a road tour this afternoon that will take the team to Mansfield and Findlay on successive days, returning to play at Lincoln park stadium in a Sabbath doubleheader with the Fostoria Red Birds. Although Marion's prospects of finishing on top at the conclusion of the league season wane with each passing day, the club is almost definitely assured a spot in the play-off for the championship.

The circuit competition will be brought to a close on Labor day and the teams occupying the top four positions will engage in a play-off for the championship. The system used, described as the O'Shaughnessy plan, will find the teams in first and third positions and the clubs in second and fourth spots pitted against each other. In the first round of play-offs the teams will clash for the best two of three meetings, with the winners battling in a five-game series.

Judging from the way the wind blows at the present time, Marion is likely to meet Findlay in the first round of the play-off, while Mansfield, the current top-notchers, would clash with the Tiffin Mud Hens. The survivors advance to the second series, which most fans today predict would find Marion and Mansfield clashing for the championship.

Today the Marion club is in the league runner-up position, six games behind the league leading Red Sox. This afternoon the two top-place clubs will clash at the Mansfield park, and Marion is out to cut down the Sox' heavy first place lead. Tomorrow Chappie Geygan's charges will invade the home field of the Findlay Browns and after being idle Saturday will return here for a Sunday afternoon twin bill with Fostoria.

Yesterday the Mansfield Red Sox held Findlay to a 10-10 deadlock over seven innings of a clash in Findlay. Grover Hartley's Browns spotted the Sox seven runs in the first inning and came back to tie the score before the game was Yelling makes Joe McCarthy hoarse, but when the boss of New York's Yankees wants a home run he's gotta holler. The frequency of base circuits by the Bronx bombers recently has given Joe an almost chronic case of sore throat.

Baseball's "Old Timers" in Marion To Play Again

Plans for a group of oldtime baseball players in and near Marion to take the field Sunday afternoon in a doubleheader against the Seccalum Park club are being made here under the direction of Lloyd Lattimore and William Fetter, both one-time members of well-known semi-pro clubs here.

The pair of Sunday games will be played at Seccalum park, the first starting at 1:30 o'clock. Fetter and Lattimore have been busy for the past week contacting oldtimers, who long ago gave up their diamond activity, in an effort to place two full teams on the field for Sunday's games.

Any members of former teams in the city are invited to take part in the games and are requested to get in touch with either Mr. Lattimore, a city fireman, or Mr. Fetter, who can be reached at the Schaffner Furniture Co. In their efforts to locate players who formerly were associated with diamond activity in this vicinity, those in charge have contacted persons over a wide area.

Among the group who Fetter and Lattimore have already contacted and who are expected to take part in the oldtimers' game are Lewis Ahl, William Jackman, William Colegrove, Francis Bacon, all of Marion, Chet, Sam and Bruce Sharrock, all of Bucyrus, Red Johnson of Prospect, Cliff Curtis of Utica, formerly of Marion and one-time big leaguer. Others in the city and this district are urged to get in touch with those in charge if they wish to participate in the game.

St. Mary's softball aggregation last night walloped Wesley, 18 to 0, to turn in the victory that clinched the No. 2 league championship for the Irish club. Although one complete round of competition remains on the circuit schedule, St. Mary now holds a four-game lead over its nearest rival and even by being beaten in the final contest, St. Mary would not lose its grip on the pennant.

The Irish team has swept up 13 victories in 14 starts this season, definitely winning the heaviest percentage of games for the 15-contest summer schedule. In the one postponed round of competition St. Mary is carded to meet the Greenwood Evangelical combine, which stands in third place, but so far as the championship is concerned the contest need not be played.

By copping the coveted league flag the St. Mary team earns the right to enter the "Little World Series" of softball, competing against champions of the No. 1 Sunday School and Industrial league titlists for the citywide championship. League winners in the other two loops remain to be chosen in final round games scheduled for this week and next.

Other games on city diamonds last night found Greenwood taking the measure of the Christian entry, 9 to 2. It was the eighth victory in 14 games for the winning club while it was Christian's fourteenth straight defeat. The Lutheran entry forefeited to Epworth Bishops in the only other scheduled game. Indians Split Pair With Browns; Bucs Beat Cubs

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The "experts" who climbed way out on that creaky limb for the Chicago Cubs a couple of weeks ago were scrambling all over each other today, trying to get back before the thing broke in two under them.

You could hear it cracking wide open all over the National League, particularly in gleeful New York, whose galloping Giants were only two games off the pace; in Pittsburgh, where the once more pounding Pirates were moving along at their fastest pace since early in the season, and in glum Chicago, whose Cubs were giving unmistakable signs of quietly folding up and stealing away.

The Bucs pinned the fifth straight setback on the injury-jinxed Windy city wallopers yesterday, winning 7-6 with a two-run rally in the ninth, to climb back into a virtual tie for third place. At the same time, the Giants belted the Bees, 9-1, for their fifth straight win, and were only a pitch and putt off the pace.

The Pirate victory was also the Bucs' fifth in a row, and made it look like Pittsburgh may finally be coming out of the sleep-walking habits of recent years. Although they have little of the crack pitching that is skyrocketing the Giants along, particularly the masterful left arm of King Carl Hubbell who turned in a seven-hitter yesterday, the Bucs are belting that apple—and winning the close ones.

Whichever way you look at it, however, it appears the Giants and Pirates may yet fight it out for the flag, with the Cardinals still to be heard from and the Cubs praying for fewer bandages on more ballplayers.

Meantime, the Yankees are slugging along on an 11½-game lead in the American League, waiting for the rival circuit to decide whether it'll be another New York subway series, or whether Chicago, Pittsburgh or St. Louis will be the party of the second part.

Murderers' Row made it three straight over the Senators yesterday with a 7-6 decision on the strength of Joe DiMaggio's 35th homer, which broke up the ball game in the ninth inning.

The second-place Tigers were trounced thoroughly by the White Sox, losing 6-0 to Vernon Kennedy's four-hit flinging. The Athletics scored their first win of the year over the Red Sox, 4-2.

The Indians and Browns broke even in a double hill, Cleveland coming through 5-2 in the opener and then dropping an 11-6 clouting contest. The Dodgers and Phils were rained out and the Cards and Reds took the day off.

RED BIRDS VICTORS IN SECOND GAME OF CRUCIAL SERIES

Columbus Hands Millers 3 to 2 Setdown, Cutting Lead to Two Games.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 19—On the basis of his record for the season, Ed McGee, the Columbus Red Birds' ace righthander, is doing a pretty good job of demonstrating the St. Louis Cardinals would have done well to keep him.

McGee, sent to the Columbus branch of the Cardinal chain early in the season, last night turned in his 16th victory of the campaign, a 3 to 2 decision over the American Association leading Minneapolis Millers, by hurling his best ball in the clutches. He held the Miller sluggers to eight scattered hits and tightened up in the ninth to put down a rally threat.

The slugging twin combination of John Rizzo and Enos Slaughter led the Red Birds at bat with

Kansas City and Indianapolis divided an afternoon-night doubleheader, the Blues winning the opener, 3 to 1, with the aid of some fancy fielding maneuvers, and the Indians slugging out 16 hits to take the night number, 10 to 7.

In another night tilt, Toledo and St. Paul split a doubleheader. The Mud Hens won the first game, 5 to 4, in 11 innings and the Saints record a run in the seventh to win the second, 3 to 2. The winning pitchers were Vic Sorrell for Toledo and Johnny Welch for St. Paul.

LOADING RUBBER ON SMALL BOATS IN LIBERIA FOR TRANSPORTATION TO OCEAN FREIGHTERS
From the Firestone plantations in Liberia comes an ever-increasing supply of the world's finest rubber. Money saved here and in manufacturing and distribution enable Firestone to sell a safer, first-quality tire at lower prices.
Why FIRESTONE MAKES A SAFER TIRE AT A LOWER PRICE
PRICES AS LOW AS $6.40
Firestone

IN THE Firestone Standard Tire, you get extra value in the form of extra safety. It costs more money to build a safer tire. But Firestone can build a first-quality tire made of top grade materials and sell it for less money, because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

You need all of these features to make your car tire-safe on your week-end or vacation trip. Firestone gives them to you at lower cost. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES!

BAN ON CHILD LABOR GIVEN SENATE OKAY

Prohibits Interstate Trade in Goods Made by Children Under 16.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — The senate passed the Wheeler-Johnson child labor bill by unanimous consent today and sent it to the house.

The measure would prohibit interstate commerce in goods made by children under 16 years of age, and in the case of hazardous industries under 18.

The same language was incorporated in the wage and hour bill which passed the senate, but the senate passed the separate measure today when Chairman Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, suggested that action might result in approval of that part of the wage-hour measure at this session of congress.

The wage-hour bill has been shelved for the session.

Besides prohibiting shipment of child labor goods in interstate commerce, the Wheeler-Johnson bill would prohibit shipment of such goods into any state in violation of its laws. It would require labelling of merchandise made by children.

ORIENTAL WAR CHILLS STOCKS

Leaders Recede Fractions to Two Points and Sends Unsettled.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Stocks hit the back train in today's market and many leaders yielded fractions to more than two points.

Steels, rubbers, motors and oils led the downswing, and most other divisions followed with more or less momentum.

Far eastern disturbances received part of the blame in brokerage quarters for the slackness of buying interest. No great stimulation was found in prospect of a quick adjournment of congress. Offsetting the latter were renewed thoughts of a special session in November.

Bonds were again unsettled by a further break in Japanese issues.

Cotton futures dipped to around the 10-cent mark as rumors of a 5-cent federal loan persisted. Other commodities were lower.

Rail shares were down small fractions, on the whole, in comparison with weakness in other parts of the market.

Conspicuous on the downswing were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Vanadium, Sloss-Sheffield, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich Goodyear, Anaconda, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, Deere, American Can, Westinghouse.

Helping to keep steels subdued were reports from the principal mills through trade sources that, while signs of a revival of buying are appearing in some sectors, backlogs are still shrinking with current shipments in excess of incoming tonnage.

Inability of rubber company shares to do much climbing was attributed partly to the fact heavy inventories are hanging over this industry and here and there talk is heard of price cutting. It was believed by some the August volume of tire replacements was unlikely to top the same month a year ago.

Stocks of oil companies operating in the Orient were rather shaky on possibility of losses connected with the Sino-Japanese war.

4 PLAIN CITY PEOPLE KILLED AT CROSSING

Two Women and Two Children Hit by Train on Double Track.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—Two women and two children were killed today at a crossing in Plain City, 22 miles northwest of here, when their car collided with a Pennsylvania railroad freight train.

Witnesses said the car stopped to wait for a west-bound train to pass the street, then pulled onto the second set of the double tracks and was struck by an east-bound train.

A relative of the victims, who was following in a truck, saw the tragedy, in which the bodies were scattered down the right-of-way.

Extreme difficulty was experienced in identifying the bodies, due to their mangled condition. They were removed to a Plain City funeral home.

J. D. Ferguson, operator of the funeral home, identified the dead as Mrs. Ralph Hubbard, 19, the driver; her nine-months-old daughter, Janice Lee Hubbard; Phyllis Collins, 12; and Miss Sylvia Kuhn, 18. Miss Kuhn lived at Kilesville, three miles from the Plain City home of the others.

"These are the worst cut up bodies I ever saw," he declared. "The train must have run over them."

He described it as the worst wreck at Plain City within his memory, although several persons have been killed on the crossing, he said. The four were riding in a coupe.

The first Central American Sanitary Congress will be held in Guatemala in November in connection with the installation of new public health services.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—The state division of charities, its chief said today, is planning to raise standards of children's homes so that they can continue to operate as state licensed institutions.

"In some counties the buildings are in such conditions as to render them wholly unsatisfactory places in which children should be housed," said Miss Gertrude Fortune, superintendent of the charities division.

LOST RING FOUND

By United Press

PORT HURON, Mich. — Mrs. Charles F. Taylor is wearing her wedding ring again for the first time in 10 years. Children playing on a Lake Huron beach near here found it in the sand where Mrs. Taylor lost it while she was visiting her sister at a summer cottage. The ring had not been damaged.

Keeps Model "T" sweet running after 155,000 miles with X-70! "My 1927 Model T Ford has gone over 155,000 miles on Standard Oil gasoline and motor oil. I also use X-70 for all my other farm engines. X-70 reduces repair costs because it is a pure, clean-burning, efficient fuel. X-70 also cuts the operating costs. X-70 is logically a farmer's first choice in gasoline because it fits every motor as well as every purse." (Letter from farmer near Columbus. Name on request.)

200,000 miles with SOHIO Oil and Gas... Original pistons still tip-top! "I recently traded in a car still with plenty of life after 200,000 miles. Thanks to Standard Oil gasoline and motor oil, which I had used exclusively, the car still had its original pistons. That extraordinary record, plus the performance your products give in my present car, leads me to believe that no better petroleum products can be made." (Letter from Ford owner of Akron. Name on request.)

SOHIO lubrication keeps her car on job 6 years... No repairs! "I appreciate the careful attention SOHIO men give to the lubrication of my car. SOHIOANS always check my oil and never let it get below 'Standard'. I believe this is one of the biggest reasons why I have driven my car six years without needing any engine repairs." (Letter from woman motorist of Columbus. Name on request.)

No carbon trouble after 190,000 miles, says dog warden in praise of X-70! "I have found there's practically no such thing as carbon when you use SOHIO X-70. My car is always dependable and easy to start with SOHIO X-70, and gives more miles per gallon than I can get with any other gasoline. In 190,000 miles, I have had to have very little done to keep my 1929 Chevrolet in good condition." (Letter from an officer in Central Ohio. Name on request.)

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Prickly Heat.

During hot weather the skin is unusually susceptible to certain disorders and inflammations. One such condition is prickly heat. It follows excessive perspiration. Though it is usually encountered during the summer, it is often seen at other times of the year, at any time, indeed, when there is excessive perspiration.

It is particularly common among infants and young children. But adults who have delicate and sensitive skins are frequently subject to this rash, especially when subjected to excessive amounts of heat.

Unless you are familiar with the appearance of prickly heat rash, undoubtedly you will become alarmed when you first have it. It frequently resembles some more serious inflammation of the skin.

Bright red blotches suddenly appear all over the body. The rash spreads rapidly from the neck, forehead, back and chest to the other parts of the skin. Few symptoms common to other rashes are present.

At first the sufferer complains only of discomfort of the skin. This is soon followed by severe itching and stinging. In severe cases the red patches may become covered with small blisters. Unless the skin is carefully attended to, these blisters may become infected.

As a rule the discomfort only lasts for a few days. Yet, if the heat is persistent and the skin perspires profusely, it may continue for many weeks. Fever is rarely if ever present. This helps distinguish the rash from that which accompanies some infectious diseases.

Persons who are susceptible to prickly heat should not indulge in strenuous activity during hot weather. Avoid undue exposure to heat and sun. Dress carefully and suitably for the weather.

Children should be guarded from the severe burning rays of the sun. They should play in the shade and avoid any excessive heat. It is best to dress them with loose and cool clothing.

This condition may occur as a result of some digestive disturbance. There used to be an old-fashioned belief that the eating of hot oatmeal during the warm weather overheats the blood and leads to prickly heat. In reality, the rapid eating of any food substances improperly prepared may lead to this condition. Of course, it is especially important that care be given to the diet during the hot weather, because that is when the disturbances are most likely to occur.

High Blood Pressure can be reduced in many cases and symptoms relieved, says eminent physician

Dr. Frederic Damrau, eminent physician of New York City, says that ALLIMIN Extract of Garlic Perles Tablets often help to reduce High Blood Pressure, and that the continued use of these tablets at prescribed intervals helps to keep the blood pressure down "by dilating the peripheral capillaries of the body surface, thus lessening the burden upon the heart." This is only one of the beneficial effects offered by the use of these tablets, says Dr. Damrau. To get the full facts, send your name and address, and an extremely interesting booklet of facts and valuable information will be sent you free. It was nudged up close to the heavy counter base which held the show cases. Relieved that the last was found, the helpers expressed their joy and wondered if it was "important." "It certainly is, it's my marriage license," was the owner's retort. She had been in just a short time before to select the band that binds.

Night Bloom

Nature students and persons interested in the unusual have been holding a field day at the home of Miss Bess Snyder on South High street for the last several evenings, watching the unfolding of the flowers on a large cereus.

The first bloom opened Saturday night, one opened Sunday night and another last night. Although this is the first time the plant has bloomed it is quite large and the flowers said by those familiar with them to be among the loveliest in form and color. The flowers are white with yellow tinted centers and when entirely open air quite large. Legend has it that the centers resemble the manger at Bethlehem.

According to Webster's dictionary the flower is "any of a genus of cacti of the western United States and tropical America, including columnar forms with nocturnal flowers."

NEW YORK—When the ears roar with the usual temporary deafness caused by too much quinine, it's really your brain and not your ears that you listen to.

The quinine gets into the brain. It affects the temporal lobe, one of the portions of gray matter that translates the sound impulses in the ear into the sense of hearing.

If. Marshall Taylor, M. D., of Jacksonville, Fla., informs the medical profession that he has made spinal punctures on patients given 30 grains of quinine for treatment of malaria, and has found quinine in the spinal fluid.

Some drugs which cause deafness act on the ears, but others he Other substances that can cause says pass readily into the brain. Other substances that can cause head noises in susceptible persons he says are salvarsan, phosphorus, lead, carbon monoxide, analine hair dyes and tobacco.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

EAGLES OF DISTRICT GREET LEADER HERE

Lodgemen of Marion and Other Cities Meet National President Heller.

A highlight of the year for Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was the visit last night of the newly-elected national president, John W. Heller Jr. of York, Pa., who came here direct from Chicago where earlier in the week he was elevated to the office of national leader. More than 250 lodgemen including visitors from Mt. Gilead, Shelby, Upper Sandusky and other nearby communities, welcomed the new president. The visit here launched President Heller's official tour of the nearly 1,200 lodges throughout the United States and Canada. He will speak at Lorain tonight and go from there to Canton.

In his address last night the president spoke on the social security laws sponsored by the order and particularly on the Eagles' Ludlow bill now before the national congress, and discussed other affairs relative to fraternal activities. He was presented by Mayor Frederick C. Smith. Officers of the Marion lodge conducted the work for the initiation of a class of 10 candidates, honoring the new president.

Preceding the meeting officers of Buckeye Aerie entertained with a dinner at Hotel Marion in honor of President Heller. Covers were laid for 35.

CATHOLICS CONTINUE COMMUNISM FIGHT

Consider Political Theory as Problem For Missionary Leaders.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 19 — Delegates to the tenth annual convention of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade continued to give their attention to the problem of communism today in both general and group meetings.

Communism as a missionary problem was to be considered at a general meeting.

Bishop James Edward Walsh, superior general of the Catholic foreign mission society of America, speaking on a missionary program, declared: "If you wish to do something about communism, you hardly can choose a better plan than mission action, for cooperation of any sort will assist the missionaries of the world in their campaign to save the world from communism and give it to Christ."

Most Rev. William D. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Chicago, and president of the Catholic Extension society, asserted that lack of moral training in the education of youth has given rise to an unparalleled epoch of crime and lawlessness.

"Unbridled competition in the marts of commerce has brought about economic disaster," Bishop O'Brien said. "And heartless greed and social injustices in industry have made of labor a forcing ground for the seeds of communism."

ROOSEVELT FIGHTS FOES OF NEW DEAL

Picnics and dinners held to smooth over party differences have been in vain. The day after a "harmony" dinner in honor of Barkley, the Democrats divided fiercely over anti-lynching legislation.

Differences Are Deep

Privately, leaders of both factions have agreed the differences were too fundamental to be so easily smoothed over. But few have been willing to forecast the outcome of the split.

Observers have talked freely of a new political alignment resulting from the situation. There has been talk of a coalition between conservative Democrats and Republicans, and of reprisals by the administration against Democratic revolters.

Perhaps the difference can be ironed out. President Roosevelt in his address yesterday, however, gave no sign of surrender. Referring to the "modern Macaulays," he said:

"They love to intone praise of liberty, to mouth phrases about the sanctity of our Constitution—but in their hearts they distrust majority rule because an enlightened majority will not tolerate the abuses which a privileged minority would seek to foist upon the people as a whole."

SANTANDER DEFENSE REPORTED "MELTED"

By The Associated Press

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 19—The Spanish insurgent high command asserted today that Santander's outlying defenses, to the southwest of the Biscayan seaport, had "melted away" while the insurgent attackers ploughed to within 20 miles of their goal.

The five-day push toward Santander, the government's last city stronghold on the Bay of Biscay, was estimated to have brought capture of 10,000 of the stubborn defenders.

Flier Kidnaping Lands Job Seeker Behind Jail Bars

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 19 — Boyish Jack Hamerly, who "wanted to fly off somewhere to look for work," awaited a preliminary hearing today on charges he kidnaped an airplane pilot while 2,000 feet in the air.

The hearing will be held Monday before Justice of the Peace J. M. Ray, before whom complaints were filed charging 18-year-old Hamerly held up a taxicab driver Bill Ray and kidnaped Pilot Bob Hunt.

Detectives Arch Spreadley and Ira Williams related the youth admitted he tried to force Hunt to take him to Laredo, where he wanted to find a job.

Pilot Hunt meanwhile told how he managed to thwart Hamerly's plans.

"We took off and I climbed to about 1,000 feet. Suddenly Hamerly punched me. He was seated next to me in the small plane.

"I turned and saw he had a pistol in his hand.

"I raised my hands. The plane started going up. 'Put your hands on the controls,' he commanded.

Hunt said his passenger ordered him to fly to Laredo, to which he protested because he had no money and very little gasoline.

"Never mind, we'll mooch some gasoline," the pilot quoted Hamerly as saying.

Hunt landed the plane at the first convenient spot. When Hamerly discovered the improvised field was a part of the Harlem prison farm, he forced the pilot to take off again immediately, Hunt related.

The pair flew toward Rosenberg, where Hunt brought the plane down in a pasture.

"We came up on some Negroes picking cotton and tried to find someone who could get us some gas. We were referred to the farm owner. We were talking to him when Hamerly turned his back to me. I jumped on him, pinned his arms and disarmed him."

Officers soon came to arrest Hamerly. He was returned to Houston.

CHINESE HURL FOE TO BRINK OF RIVER

which foreigners must be evacuated to the sea.

United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss decisively told Japanese naval authorities traffic between Shanghai and Woosung—the gateway to the sea and safety for thousand of Americans—must be absolutely unrestricted.

As the Japanese started their offensive Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander-in-chief of the Japanese fleet operating against Shanghai, notified the American authorities that the Japanese navy wished to restrict traffic on the Whangpoo river over which almost 1,000 Americans have been evacuated.

Gauss replied immediately such action could not be countenanced. Other foreign authorities were understood to have taken a similar stand.

Hospital Bombed

The American consulate learned that Japanese planes had bombed the American mission hospital school and one American residence at Natungchow, up the Yangtze river in Kiangsu province, Aug. 17. All Americans were safe, according to information reaching the American consulate here.

Just after noon the Japanese army launched an offensive against the Chinese lines linking strategic Kiangwan with the Woosung forts. It was the first time regular troops of the Japanese army had entered the fighting.

The Japanese announced their drive was making "satisfactory" progress and their lines had been pushed forward several thousand yards north of the American Shanghai university. One Japanese report said the Chinese were fleeing.

Chinese artillery batteries opened the seventh day of undeclared but terrible war for Shanghai at dawn, shelling Japanese land positions and warships in the Whangpoo river with a heavy barrage fire believed to be preparatory to a major offensive.

Japanese Strike

Throughout the morning the big guns roared in a duel that increased in crescendo but before the expected Chinese land attack would be launched the Japanese struck.

The Japanese attack was launched behind a counter-barrage that swept both sides of the Whangpoo. The industrial city of Pootung, on the east bank across from Shanghai proper was in flames. Some 30,000 Chinese troops are entrenched here threatening the Japanese from the rear.

THEATER SWEEPSTAKES HALTED BY POLICE RAID

equipment to police station, also helped in the raid.

Scores of persons left the theater leisurely but talking excitedly as the raid progressed. One person reported overhearing a woman who apparently believed she held the ticket entitling her to the $200 first prize crying in vain, "that's my money and they know it." The police, meanwhile, were taking the money to police station.

Theater employes not active in the sweepstakes game quickly made arrangements to continue the theater program, and confusion inside the theater subsided quickly after the raid was completed.

Crowd Lingers

Meanwhile, scores of persons lingered at the front of the theater and around the police station, which is almost directly across the street from the theater, trying to peek between leaves of Venitian blinds on the police station windows for a glimpse of what was going on inside. At that time, the four persons taken into custody were merely sitting at the station, after being booked on the prison records, waiting for the police to finish their search for equipment used in the sweepstakes game. They took Manager Planck back to the theater with them to help in the search.

After this was completed, City Solicitor Carhart and Chief Marks questioned two of the three women taken into custody with Mr. Planck, who meanwhile was making arrangements to furnish bond. At this stage of developments, Mayor Smith, accompanied by City Clerk Harry Brookshire, came into police station and the mayor voiced sharp criticism of the raid to both Chief Marks and the city solicitor.

Bonds Furnished

After a brief exchange of words, the mayor left. Mr. Planck returned with money for bonds. His bond was fixed at $225 and the bonds of each of the three employe at $25.

Part of the tickets and articles taken to police station during the raid were returned to the theater after authorities satisfied themselves they had no connection with the operation of the sweepstakes game.

All four persons taken into custody sat in the room in which the desk sergeant works until bond was arranged and they were released to appear in municipal court at 11 o'clock this morning for arraignment. However, they were not obliged to appear after arrangements had been made to delay the arraignment.

City Solicitor Carhart said last night he knows of no other city in Ohio that has taken action against "bank night" or sweepstakes features in the form of a raid. It is expected the outcome of the case will be watched with unusual interest throughout Ohio due to the fact the action apparently will become a test for the legality of these games.

One feature of the sweepstakes game was pointed out last night by authorities as being especially objectionable. In their opinion, They said it was possible for a person to go to the theater on any Wednesday afternoon, purchase an admission ticket, go inside the lobby and register at a desk provided for that purpose, leave without seeing the picture show and still be entitled to receive the award that night if their ticket is drawn and their horse wins in the race film shown. They emphasized that persons who register in this manner need not be present at the time of the drawing and the showing of the race film to receive the prize.

Thus, they pointed out, persons could "play" the sweepstakes game, if they wished, solely as a game of chance without any intention of seeing the picture show. Theater employes countered this charge by saying the only purpose for which they received money was for tickets of admission to the theater—the sweepstakes game was an extra feature offered at no cost—and that they could not compel anyone to stay in the theater if they preferred to leave.

How It Operates

In the operation of the sweepstakes game, attendance at the theater on Wednesday is necessary to become eligible to share in the prizes given that night. The starting prizes are $200 first, $10 second and $5 third. Each person participating in the game is given the name of a horse. The first step toward the selection of winners each week is the drawing of 20 names of horses from a huge hopper and posting these names on a blackboard on the stage of the theater. On the blackboard the names of horses are placed opposite numbers from one to 20. Then four films are carried to the stage, each of them showing 20 horses in a race. Someone chooses one of the films and it is taken to the projection booth and shown on the screen. Spectators watch the progress of the race by noting the number each horse carries. The order in which the horses finish in the race determines the first, second and third prize winners. Last night, horse No. 13 came in first. Reference to the blackboard showed that horse No. 13 for last night's game was named Spanish Red. Reference to the theater records then disclosed the name of the person holding a ticket on Spanish Red and that name was read to the crowd. Ordinarily, three minutes are allowed for the holder of the lucky ticket to come to the stage and claim the prize. If the holder of the winning ticket is not in the theater and has not registered at the theater on the day of the drawing the prize money is allowed to accumulate and is added to the next week's game.

Persons admitted on 10 cent children's tickets are not permitted to play the game.

The Register

In preparation for the raid, four patrolmen went to the theater yesterday afternoon and registered for the prizes to be drawn last night. City Solicitor Carhart also registered.

This posse of preparation was reminiscent of the difficulty police had in obtaining a witness in the numbers raid trials in municipal court who could testify about how the game was played. Defense attorneys in the numbers trial insisted that the testimony come from a witness who had first-hand information and, in order to get a witness to meet these requirements, it was necessary to bring two detectives from Columbus. The registration of the policemen yesterday apparently was to qualify them to testify about how the game was played.

The sweepstakes or bank night game has been kept out of a number of large Ohio cities by officials, City Solicitor Carhart said. He said theaters were not permitted to start the game in Columbus, Cincinnati or Cleveland and that in some state organizations like the Chamber of Commerce have kept the game out of their states. In many Ohio cities, however, as well as in smaller communities, the game has flourished for more than a year, he said, with little or no interference on the part of authorities.

Mayor's Statement

The complete text of Mayor Smith's statement follows:

"I did not order the raid on the Palace theater. I believe this spectacular raid was purely a political move. I do not believe the real purpose was to stop gambling.

"The sweepstakes have been running for 16 months.

"Certainly the police authorities, if they believe the sweepstakes is illegal had ample time to stop it long before this. And I happen to know that it could have been done quietly. Mr. Planck (manager of the Palace theater) came to me about eight months ago and explained he believed the sweepstakes was not gambling, but said if I believed it to be illegal he would be glad to study the game with me in detail. He made the same proposal to Chief Marks. I looked into the matter as best I could and could not determine whether it was illegal or not. With this fact in mind and the further fact that the vast majority of people attended it, I felt it my duty as mayor not to interfere.

"There are those, of course, who do not like the way this administration has done things, and they would hate us out if they could.

"Naturally, a raid upon the theater could be made to appear as having been ordered by the mayor. And surely the mayor would not be so foolish as to deny he ordered it, or did not sanction it. And wouldn't a spectacular raid upon a crowded theater be just the thing to create sentiment against Mayor Smith for his re-election?

"The sweepstakes are very popular in Marion. It can not be denied that the bulk of the people attended it.

"And moreover, if the police authorities really meant to enforce the ordinance against gambling they could have arrested everyone in the theater building, for the ordinance specifically commands this be done.

"I feel ashamed for this act of the police department. It was wholly uncalled for. It was an insult to those present in the theater as well as those who have been taking part in the sweepstakes, which means the public at large."

Planck's Comment

Mr. Planck, manager of the theater, when given an opportunity today to comment on the raid, said he had talked with the mayor and Chief Marks a number of months ago about the sweepstakes, and told them they need never raid the theater nor arrest him if they questioned the operation of the sweepstakes.

"I told them the records were open to them at all times and that I was convinced I could show them the sweepstakes, as operated by the Palace theater, did not constitute violation of any law," he said.

"The sweepstakes have been in operation in the Palace theater since May 7, 1936. It strikes me that this is a late date for the police or whoever ordered the raid to discover the sweepstakes were a violation of the law.

"We have done everything within our power to keep anything offensive from being associated with the operation of the sweepstakes—far more than has been done in many other communities where similar features are conducted without interference. There is no charge connected with the sweepstakes—it is merely an added feature on our Wednesday programs."

Chief Marks, when given an opportunity to comment on Mr. Planck's statement, said he had nothing to say about the conference Mr. Planck mentioned having with him. Last night, however, he pointed out that last December he instructed his men to spread a general notice around the city for all forms of gambling and games of chance to be halted. He said he felt satisfied this warning reached Planck.

PROBATION OFFICER FACES DISCHARGE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—John M. Caren, executive secretary of Gov. Martin L. Davey, said today the governor would inform Welfare Director Margaret Allman that he believed C. R. Rule, chief probation and parole officer for the Cleveland district, should be discharged immediately for gross neglect of duty.

Director Allman previously suspended Rule for 30 days when Cleveland police took into custody Harry Kutler, a convict from the London prison farm, whom Rule had been assigned to guard while on leave from prison. The Cleveland police seized Kutler in connection with an investigation of tire thefts.

PARIS SOFT-PEDALS ROOSEVELT AFFAIR

Silent About Inquiry as President's Son Says It Was Two Other Persons.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Aug. 19—The surete nationale, France's central police agency, stiffly declined today to discuss the possibility of an investigation to determine just who squirted champagne on the mayor of Cannes.

John Roosevelt, 21-year-old son of the President of the United States, said he didn't do it—that it must have been two other fellows whom Mayor Pierre Nouveau took for Roosevelt and his traveling companion at Cannes last Sunday.

But the mayor, whose suit was ruined, told U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt by telephone:

"I was told that my attacker was young Roosevelt although I had never seen him before. I regret to say that I am certain now it was Mr. Roosevelt. I wish the whole affair were ended."

The President's son insisted:

"I never met the mayor of Cannes... I don't know anything about it... I have no idea how the situation came up."

Paris morning newspapers ignored the matter and Roosevelt was reported by American sources to have spent a quiet evening with friends in Paris after yesterday's hustle-bustle at the embassy where he entered his denial.

As far as the surete nationale's investigation was disclosed, it had established only that the mayor actually had been the object of a champagne and bouquet attack during Cannes' annual "battle of the flowers."

STATE INSTITUTIONS GET MENTAL CLINICS

But Only $21,000 Appropriated Instead of $1,000,000 Requested.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—A new law providing for clinics at state institutions for the treatment of the mentally ill, to be operative Jan. 1, became effective today but with only $21,000 appropriated by the legislature compared to the $1,000,000 suggested by Gov. Martin L. Davey.

The appropriation included $6,500 for the salary of a commissioner who would have complete supervision of all mental disease cases in the clinics and institutions for the insane and feeble minded, and $4,500 for one of two authorized assistants.

An advisory council of four members will aid the commissioner. Other new laws effective today include:

Fixing of a basic maximum, with exceptions, of 48 hours labor a week for women and minors and requiring employers to post the number of hours each woman and minor works each week;

Outlawing deficiency judgments at the end of two years on single and double residential property and farm homesteads; and staggering Cleveland municipal judges' terms.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC PLAGUES CHINESE

By The Associated Press

HONGKONG, Aug. 19—A cholera epidemic menaced an area of several hundred square miles on the south China coast today, including this British haven for refugees from the Shanghai warfare.

The plague struck the Hongkong crown colony, spread to the Portuguese colony on Macao, on a mainland peninsula, and reached out up the Pearl river to Canton, China.

Shipping officials here expressed fear that it would be necessary to cancel all calls at this port and to quarantine ships which already have arrived.

This created the danger that evacuation of British nationals from China might have to be suspended.

Fletcher Says Both Senators Favor Clevelander.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Rep. Robert Crosser of Cleveland had the indorsement today of the Ohio Democratic congressional delegation for appointment as District of Columbia court of appeals judge.

Withdrawal of Rep. Byron B. Harlan of Dayton paved the way for the indorsement, said Rep. Brooks Fletcher of Marion who also stated that both Ohio senators favored Crosser. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley submitted the name of Robert N. Wilkin, former Ohio supreme court justice, for consideration but without indorsement.

PORTUGAL SEVERS TIES WITH CZECHS

Russian Influence on Arms Trade Mentioned as Having Bearing on Break.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 19—Portugal's rupture of diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia stood today as Europe's first official "outside" break resulting from the Spanish war.

Authorities recalled that Portugal, Italy and Germany severed diplomatic relations with the Madrid-Valencia government of Spain last fall but this remained the first case of rupture between two countries, neither of which was a party of the Spanish war.

Reserving opinion for the present," Czechoslovakian quarters here hinted that Lisbon's action—if irrevocable—was based probably on "irresponsible propaganda about Czechoslovakian connections with the Soviet union."

Portugal's charges of a "third party" influence in the alleged Czechoslovakian refusal to fill Portuguese armament orders was regarded as the possible key to the dispute.

Russia last fall charged Portugal with "gun-running for (Spanish insurgent general) Franco." Portugal's purpose in ordering arms admittedly was of direct interest to countries opposed to an insurgent victory in Spain.

The mere refusal to sell arms, it was pointed out, was not of itself a matter of sufficient political significance to warrant a diplomatic break.

But both France and Russia, it was pointed out, have been in an excellent position to influence Czechoslovakian foreign policy by capitalizing on Praha's fear of a Fascist bloc in Europe. France generally is understood to have a strong treaty for mutual assistance with Czechoslovakia. Russia is believed to have the same.

The extent to which the breach could be regarded as a recurrence of the threat of general European war through the Spanish conflict had not yet been evaluated. The distance between Portugal and Czechoslovakia minimized the possibility of direct hostilities, in any case.

Body Found Along Railroad Tracks by Crew of Switch Engine.

Special to The Star

CAREY, O., Aug. 19—The body of an unidentified middle-aged man was found about 6 o'clock last night along the A. C. & Y. railroad tracks a mile and a half southwest of here. The body was found by the crew of a switch engine working in that vicinity.

Although Wyandot County Coroner J. A. Propst and other county officials were conducting an investigation they have been unable to learn the identity of the man or how he came to be along the tracks.

One theory advanced this morning was that he was riding on a train of mixed passenger and freight cars and fell from a box car. An air of mystery was given the incident when John Dye, conductor of the train, and other members of the train crew reported hearing an explosion about the time the Delphos bound train passed the spot where the body was found. They believed the man might have been carrying a quantity of nitroglycerine which exploded when he fell.

However, the coroner said there were no indications of injury to the body by an explosion. The man's injuries included a fractured skull, broken ribs, a shoulder injury and the right ear torn off.

The man was dressed in gray trousers, a vest and dark hat. The body is being held at the Bristoll funeral home here. Neither the body nor clothing carried any marks of identification.

U. S. MAY TAKE HAND IN CINCINNATI CASE

Colorado Official Suggests "Lindbergh" Kidnap Law Be Invoked.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19—Possibility that the federal "Lindbergh" kidnap law might be invoked in the case of Mrs. Anna Hahn arose today as she awaited court action on a requested change of venue for her trial on charges she fatally poisoned two elderly men.

District Attorney Clyde L. Starrett said at Colorado Springs he had suggested the federal bureau of investigation join the inquiry into charges against the blond former housemaid.

Starrett said G-men could enter the case through the death in Colorado Springs Aug. 1 of George Obendoerfer, 67, Cincinnati cobbler who was accompanied there by Mrs. Hahn. The law might be invoked, Starrett declared, if evidence developed that Obendoerfer was induced to cross state lines against his will or with intent to injure or rob him.

"I believe we can show this was done," Starrett said.

The German-born woman, accused in the deaths of George Gaellman, 67, and Jacob Wagner, 78, sat tight-lipped in a crowded courtroom yesterday as the murder charge was read. Counsel entered a plea of innocent and asked Judge Charles S. Bell for a trial outside of Cincinnati. The court set Friday for the hearing on the request.

RED PRESS ATTACKS JAPANESE ENVOY

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Aug. 19—Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu was accused today by Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, of abusing his diplomatic rank by spreading secret anti-Communist propaganda in the Soviet capital.

Pravda, charging Shigemitsu was "unbecoming conduct," hinted broadly that propagandist activities would not be tolerated.

"If Shigemitsu is inclined to write," the newspaper declared, "we suggest he find another outlet for his talent because his work is not becoming either to the ambassador or to the big country he represents."

The reference was to a statement which Shigemitsu handed to foreign correspondents here disputing Russian charges that Japanese organized and protected a white Russian raid on the Soviet consulate in Tientsin, China.

BARN DESTROYED BY BLAZE NEAR WALDO

Passing Motorist Discovers Fire on Howison Farm; Other Buildings Saved.

Special to The Star

WALDO, Aug. 19—A large barn on the Scott Howison farm at the north limits of Waldo was destroyed by fire of unknown origin early this morning. The blaze was discovered by a motorist who was passing near the scene on state route 23, and spread the alarm.

Howison succeeded in saving two automobiles which were kept in the barn, but other contents, including farm equipment and a quantity of hay, were destroyed. Volunteers who arrived shortly after the blaze was discovered succeeded in saving a granary located nearby.

The Waldo fire department also assisted in subduing the flames, which threatened other nearby buildings. No animals were in the barn. The loss, which was unestimated early today, was partially covered by insurance.

Proof of the Pudding.

The United States has a law to protect its neutrality. The law is wholly experimental. No one knows whether or not it will work.

There is this thing about it, though, which must be remembered. The purpose of the law is not to help any foreign country win or lose a war. The purpose is not to protect the commercial interests of this country.

Rather, it is to prevent the government and commercial interests from adding to the provocations of war by making up their policies as they go along. It is an experiment in keeping the United States out of war by laying down in advance a policy for dealing with foreign nations at war.

Apparently, strife between Japan and China is to be the first real test of the neutrality law. Theorists can put away their books and treatises now, because they are going to be watching events which very likely will be the proof of the legal pudding they have made.

Rushing Things.

Massillon councilmen voting to have property owners remove their hitching posts, said to be an inconvenience to autoists, probably are rushing things a trifle.

The hitching post could be tolerated, it would seem, till the waterplugs and telephone and power poles have been taken away too—tolerated for what a hitching post stood for in its days of usefulness, which were, by the way, more numerous by far than those of the automobile have been.

It was one of the chief external symbols of gracious living—an invitation to stop for a minute and come in.

Besides, the hitching post gave rise to a peculiarly American form of art. More beautiful, more significant by far, than Donatello's "David" were the cast iron pickaninnies who held a convenient ring in one outstretched hand. Who knows what might have flowered from the genius of hitching post designers had they been allowed to go on? What do parking lots have to offer that is half as good?

Those were pleasant days, when the sharp clop-clop-clop of an approaching rig might end with a staccato stutter at the hitching post, which had been placed there to make calling easier and now—tst, tst.—to be removed from Massillon curbstones so automobile doors won't get scratched.

Legend in Danger.

Japanese national pride, they say, is based largely on military supremacy. Military supremacy over, whom?

Who but Chinese, drawing comfort from belief in their own superiority over the Japanese, though in other matters.

A vital legend has been constructed on the fact that in encounters with Chinese troops so far Japanese have been victorious. This is important to Japan, striving to attain its manifest destiny the shortest possible way.

Yet, unaccountably, the Chinese are fighting vigorously in defense of Shanghai. They are better equipped, better trained, than in 1932, when they won a moral victory by their courageous stand against a superior Japanese force. Will Japan win again?

The far east at the moment is a dynamite dump, with dangers lurking in every corner. Among the dangers must be included the possibility that Japan, in order to protect its insecurely founded legend of military superiority, may be driven to desperate measures in an effort to maintain the prestige indispensable in oriental politics.

Last Leg.

August now hobbles on the last leg of the vacation season. In the next three weeks most of the remainder of the vacationists will take their week or two weeks in the sun and troop back reluctantly to another 50 weeks of toil.

In the case of the outdoor clan—the wood, field and stream folk—the period between vacations is especially important. For it is in that period that they prepare themselves amid the luxury of running water, electricity and gas to enjoy the sudden reversion to kerosene lamps, pumps and wood stoves.

Before Labor day more thousands of them will be off to parts unknown "to rough it" for a few days. This is by all means one of the strangest things about Americans, that they should enjoy so thoroughly a temporary return to some of the hardships of life which, when they had to endure them, were the signs of a less abundant life.

Not all Americans, to be sure, feel that way about vacations, but enough of them do to give sociologists something to ponder over.

Massage.

Out in the neighborhood of Buhl, Idaho, when nature has finished shifting some thousands of tons of rock and dirt, there will be a canyon where a few weeks ago there was a cornfield.

That will not prevent, necessarily, the appearance simultaneously of a cornfield somewhere else in place of a canyon now in existence. It will leave nature plenty of time to topple off most of the coastline of Asia into the Pacific one of these days and to throw up a few dozen islands in that vast ocean to replace a few dozen more which will disappear.

A mountain range may be thrown up or leveled off. The English channel may become dry land and Central America may sink into the sea. Nature, contrary to a rather smug conviction that everything now is about as it should be, hasn't finished massaging the face of the earth yet.

CLASHING AMBITIONS.

It has about come to the point where labor leaders don't get along with one another any better than the Democrats do—Indianapolis News.

Scare Campaign Renewed

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1937, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — President Roosevelt is finding it difficult nowadays to turn the scrutinizing eyes of the nation away from the weaknesses of his administration—the growing deficits and the growing graft—but, with characteristic ingenuity, he is beginning again to make speeches of denunciation of those who dare to disagree with him.

The President's address in North Carolina, in which he quoted at length from Lord Macaulay's letter of 1857, predicting mobocracy for America was an interesting example of how often Mr. Roosevelt turns to the art of invective, believing that the best defense is a hammering offense.

What Lord Macaulay wrote has in it many true words about the dangers of mob rule. Much of the Britisher's prophecy has already come true, especially his picture of the "Rantings of the Demagogue." Likewise today the Macaulay prediction of legislatures dominated by groups of unemployed and organized malcontents is not far different from what is happening as demands on the federal treasury come from groups who pay no taxes and produce no real wealth, but who feel they have the right to confiscate the savings of others.

Mr. Roosevelt himself is unwilling to meet these demands as a statesman—precisely as Lord Macaulay predicted would be the case some day—but prefers to pour out borrowed money or to exploit the unemployed and their families so as to get enough votes to carry each election and keep himself and his henchmen in power. The President's argument that his opponents do not trust majority rule omits the important point that they do not trust artificial majorities created through Farleyism a.d misuse of public funds.

Many times has the Macaulay prophecy been reprinted in recent years as a warning against the disintegration of democratic government in the United States, and the words of the British historian have often been quoted because they seem to parallel the new deal cycle in American history. In this connection, the Macaulay letter was fully quoted by this correspondent in these columns last November.

Attack On Opponents

The President brings forth the Macaulay prophecy now solely to make an attack on the imaginary position of present-day opponents. Naively, for instance, he puts these words into the mouth of his opposition of today:

"We believe with Macaulay that the American form of government will lead to disaster and, therefore, we seek a change in the American form of government as laid down by the founding fathers."

Only a few weeks ago, Mr. Roosevelt was denouncing his opposition for wishing to make no change in the American form of government, whereas he and his associates insisted that the American form of government was a flexible thing and should be changed to meet changing conditions.

But the President waves all this aside with his customary disregard of his own contradictions. It is his favorite form of warfare. In fact, he is one of the best combatants of the school of thought which believes the people do not remember from day to day, or, as Harry Hopkins once expressed it, that "they are too damn dumb" to understand, anyhow.

It has been thought by many of us that Mr. Roosevelt had very little faith in the American form of government as it has existed and that he thought that majority rule had just about worn itself out. As a matter of fact, his administration has not allowed majority rule to function, because the new deal has used the powers of government to perpetuate itself in office, building up political machines through coercion of voters at the polls by means of threats of discontinuing relief or benefits. The last campaign and election saw scandalous evidences in many states where political machines were used to influence votes. Nor has there been much majority rule for the people in a congress brazenly made subservient to executive favor and patronage.

The main contention of those who oppose Mr. Roosevelt today, however, is that the majority party is intolerant of any views except its own. Time was when Mr. Roosevelt defended staunchly the rights of the minority. He made many speeches about minorities and insisted before he came to the White House that it was very important that minorities should not be oppressed.

Rights Now Refused

Today, however, he is refusing to take the rights of minorities into account. In recent weeks, the majority power in congress has smothered and squelched investigations of wrong-doing as well as public hearings on questions on which the American people have a right to be heard.

Mr. Roosevelt says: "But we cannot go along with the tory insistence that salvation lies in the vesting of power in the hands of a select class, and that, if America does not come to that system, American must perish."

But there are many true liberals who really believe that the vesting of power in any class at all is dangerous, even if that class claims to benefit and conduct government on a basis which sees nothing wrong in having the chairman of the Democratic national committee sit in the cabinet or recognizes no impropriety in allowing ambassadorships and ministerships and other high offices practically to be bought through campaign contributions, or condones a shakedown of corporations in violation of federal statutes.

In the hands of any one class—whether it be the "economic royalist" class, or the labor racketeer class or the political racketeer class—American democracy is likely to be in danger. But the greatest danger of them all is suppressing the truth and attempts to divert public attention from the real illnesses of government. Today, the expenses of government are higher than last year, the deficits are higher than a year ago, prices are rising on every side, the poor man is going to find it harder and harder to meet living costs with the purchasing power of his dollar, and the public debt—federal, state and municipal—has now reached the unprecedented total of more than 37 billion dollars.

The administration is trying to maintain the thesis that, because the national income is rising, there is no danger in an unbalanced budget or in a rising debt. The truth is that the cost of government is growing and the figure on which our attention should be fixed is the ratio between the cost of government and the national income. Taxes, in other words, are growing at a much more rapid rate than is the national income.

In view of these serious facts, Mr. Roosevelt continues to set up straw men and bogeys to lambaste in his public speeches, forgetting that the American people grow tired of name-calling as even they weary of popular songs and really would like to have from the President of the United States a definition of a constructive policy which will enable them to adjust business budgets as well as individual budgets, including particularly those of the wage earners and the small income groups, the under-privileged, who are struggling today to buy meat and food at prices made unnecessarily high through the blunders of the new deal in interfering with natural laws.

Modern Princesses

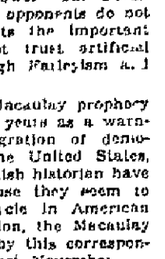
TIRANA, Albania—Three young, unmarried princesses are the advance guard in the movement led by their brother, King Zog, to emancipate Albanian women from the veil and other Turkish customs.



RUHIJE

Just before the decree unveiling the women was issued, the princesses, Myasyen, 27; Ruhije, 26, and Maxhide, 25, journeyed from here to Scutari in the north, without veils and appeared in public and at social events in European clothes.

It was partly because of the example thus set by the princesses that the unveiling reform, which has met opposition in other countries, has been in effect in Albania for three months without incident. Women as well as their menfolks apparently are reconciled to the change.

The princesses are determined to continue their work for the greater freedom of the Albanian women.

MAXHIDE

They travel about freely. They are expert horsewomen and sometimes appear in full uniform as cavalry officers in Albania's one crack cavalry regiment. When they ride in uniform they receive the military salute and return it. The salute in Albania is made with the right arm and hand across the chest, the palm downward.

The princesses do not perform any military duties in the regiment.

The three princesses are uniformly pretty, and had they not been princesses certainly would have been married by this time. They talk several foreign languages, having studied in Switzerland. Occasionally they go to Vienna.

They have three older sisters, two of whom are married and one of whom is a widow.

A Book A Day

By JOHN SELBY

A SUPERSTITION has grown up that any set of stories printed in the New Yorker is worth reprinting as a book. Quite often this is not true—stories written to the New Yorker's formula often have a dreadful sameness which collected into a book. They go thus: proposition, tangle, snapper. There is no variation.

This invariable formula, plus the fact that the stories usually are too short, and collect, therefore, like unsewn quilt blocks, or pages from a dictionary, holds for the latest New Yorker collection, which is "The Education of Hyman Kaplan."

Leonard Q. Ross is the name on the title page. But the publisher confesses in his trade organ that the author's name is not Leonard Q. Ross. Mr. Ross or whoever he is has, it appears from the same source, taught foreigners in night school. The material used in the Kaplan stories is, therefore, authentic.

These little yarns are all set in the classroom of Mr. Parkhill, earnest soul giving a portion of his time to teaching "English" to a group of persons, chiefly Yiddish, who probably wouldn't be understood at home if they took Mr. Parkhill seriously. Chief among these eager learners is Mr. Kaplan, who not only has a shrewd mind, but is a man given to straining unusual ideas through his mind.

These emerge in such mutilated fashion that "Mr. Pockheel" lives continually between gusts of amusement and fits of annoyance. Mr. Kaplan cannot distinguish between "e" and "a," nor can he keep out of the hair of his fellow student, Mr. Bloom. Mr. Kaplan names "fife prazidents United States" as "Abram Lincohen, Hodding, Coolitch, Judge Washington and Banjamin Frenklin." Quite casually Mr. Kaplan transfers a speech from "Macbeth" to "Julius Scissor," and explains it perfectly. And so on.

Because this humor is Jewish humor entirely, some may not understand it. But those who do will pierce the night with their shouts of joy—if they haven't already read Mr. Kaplan.

Physicians Lead in Earnings List

A BANKER'S eye view of the earning power of 16 vocations has been made available to the public by Dr. John F. Clark, professor in charge of educational economics at Teachers college, Columbia university. Dr. Clark, with the assistance of 20 research workers, has devoted eight years to the project of assessing the earning values of the life careers of person in the 16 vocations as if they were applicants for mortgages on the proceeds of their efforts.

Occupation	Working Life Span	Value of Average Earnings for a Working Lifetime.
Medicine	42	$108 000
Law	43	105 000
Dentistry	45	95 400
Engineering	43	93 300
Architecture	43	82 500
College Teaching	44	69 300
Social Work	45	51,000
Journalism	46	41 500
Ministry	44	41 000
Library Work	46	35,000
Pub. Sch'l Teach.	45	29 700
Skilled Trades	44	25,600
Nursing	40	23 300
Unskilled Labor	44	15,200
Farming	51	12,500
Farm Labor	51	10,400

One of the surprises is the position of doctors, who rate above lawyers. Another is the relatively high position of public school teachers, who rate above skilled tradesmen.

Dr. Clark began his research because he was not satisfied with available statistics giving average hourly, daily or weekly incomes. He did not believe they were trustworthy guides to earning power.

Arrives at Averages

After determining the average number of working years for persons employed in each of the 16 vocations, he compiled from existing statistics in thousands of magazines and books and independent surveys figures on the average yearly incomes of men in each field.

The years between 1920 and 1936 are covered in the research. The statistics were broken down to show average annual incomes of groups within each occupation according to the number of years they had been employed.

In this way Dr. Clark established scales showing what men employed in each field might, on the average, expect to receive during each successive year of their employment. Much as bankers discount loans, Dr. Clark then subtracted from the average income for each year an amount equal to interest, compounded at a rate of 4 per cent annually, covering the period between the time the men of that group started to work and the year in question.

Method of Calculation

The average incomes for each year, with interest deducted, were then added together and the total was assumed to be the average value of a man's earning power in that field. Dr. Clark admitted that the accuracy of his calculations would depend upon income remaining stable in future years.

He pointed out, however, that comparative figures rather than absolute statistics were what was needed for vocational guidance. He said that his calculations would probably give the best picture available of the relationship between the economic returns of life work in different occupations.

Remembering An Old Timer

BY O. O. M'INTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 — They are having a get together of former friends and admirers to pay tribute to Tommy Gray, gone these ten years. Tommy was one of Broadway's gallants, a true wit, actor, song writer and a light hearted churl along the buoyant boulevard.

His boon companion and confidant was the equally beloved Sime Silverman, of Variety. Sime liked nothing better than to corral Tommy, pilot him to the far away corner of a grill, surround him with congenial companions and let him ventilate his amusing observations.

Tommy came back from England one time wearing the first gray derby the town had ever seen outside the English picture papers. One of his memorable mots was a sunny morning when he passed Lee Shubert and Marcus Loew on a Claridge corner in earnest talk. As he swung by he called "Hi Lee, Hi Loew."

He was just getting into his proper niche—with producers seeking his lines—when he fell ill and passed away. Among other Broadway wits who have given freely and gratuitously of their humor were Dave Montgomery's brother, Scamp and Frisco.

William Faversham, now comfortably located in an Actors' Home at East Islip, writes me allegorically of his new life after years of ten stage stardom. "Years ago I boarded a certain ship for a long cruise towards Everywhere. Before we had gone far on our voyage I realized I was on a vessel that was not seaworthy and there was a premonition we should be wrecked sooner or later. There was no safe shore within reach so I decided to stand by and try to be of use when the fatal day came. After sailing many seas, with storms from all quarters of the compass, the fatal day came and I found myself adrift—alone!" I was soon picked up by a splendid boat that had aboard many people that I knew. They took me to their island a beautiful place and upon it grew all that one's heart could desire—peace, rest, contentment and one need fear storms no more. I asked them to let me live there and they very graciously consented. So that is where I now live. I call it The Island of Rejuvenation."

So far as I can discover the dapper Reginald Birch is oldest illustrator in the field. He is crowding the 80's. One of his tokens of fame—and one that gets in his hair—was his illustrations for the original edition of "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Recently he has been collaborating with authoress Laura G. Richards on a book. At 87, Mrs. Richards is going good. Incidentally her husband is hale and hearty at 90.

George Abbott has become The Miracle Man of the theater. Almost every play that goes through his hands brings a Midas touch to the box office. His most notable recent success, of course, was "Room Service" which portrays the dead beats of the Broadway hotels with surprising reality. They are a guild—these hotel beats—and that the stage has never dramatized them before is a shining example of overlooking the obvious. Abbott is a big contributing cause to the stage holding on, following so many knock out punches in recent years.

One of Park avenue's lady wits has long believed that those in receiving lines at receptions paid no attention to the murmured banalities of arriving guests. To test it she went down the line bobbing and smirking: "I've just murdered my husband, the so-and-so, and left him at home in the bath tub." Without exception all bowed and murmured, "So glad to see you," and the rest of it. There used to be a crack auto salesman who could mingle in the manner of double talk vituperation and insults so cleverly with a saccharine sales talk that no prospect ever caught the insinuations. Proving that most of us hear only what we want to hear.

New Home Era Predicted

Architect Predicts Pre-Fabricated Dwellings.

By International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Pre-fabricated houses, manufactured on a mass-production basis, will be perfected to such an extent in the next 30 years that men will look back on the architecture of 1937 as "barbaric" in the opinion of Harvey Wiley Corbett, New York architect.

Discussing the house of the future in a Columbia university lecture, Corbett declared:

"Industry can step into the manufacture of homes by dividing them into elements that can be put together in one or two days complete and ready for occupancy.

When the pre-fabricated dwellings come into being, houses for the first time will have design according to Corbett, as manufacturers then will be able to engage the best designers.

Comparison With Automobile

"Today," he said, "trained architects, who really should handle the small house problem, cannot afford to do it. Prefabricated houses will have the same degree of design and perfection as we find in the modern automobile, which is an increasingly graceful machine."

"I can visualize what form the pre-fabricated house will take," he declared. "The manufacturing company will send you a set of blocks which are tiny replicas of the various sections of the house. On your dining room table you will erect your own model house by fitting together the blocks. Thus you will know exactly how the actual house will look. Your home will not be the same as everyone else's because it will have been planned by you."

Ordering from Model

When you have completed the model to your own satisfaction, you will order the blocks from the factory by number, the New York architect predicted. Each block will cost a certain amount. The total expense of the house will be computed simply by adding the prices of all the blocks used.

"If anything should happen to one of the sections, it can be easily replaced," Corbett said. "When babies come, the house may be enlarged by purchasing more sections. After the children grow up and move away, the home can readily be made smaller again."

No cement will enter into the manufacture of such houses, Corbett declared.

"Lighting arrangements will be developed so that when one presses a switch, light comes on in the particular color and tone desired.

Effect of Living Conditions.

The conditions under which people live have a vital effect on the whole national life, he said, pointing out that 25 per cent of the people in America are the most that ever have their homes built for them. The other 75 per cent live in houses built for some one else, like second-hand clothes.

Corbett pointed out that the present every-day comforts, such as the telephone and radio, are possible only because they are "mass-produced."

"We could not afford to have these things if they were hand made," he declared, adding that "houses, however, are still made by hand in the old-fashioned way."

When industry begins to manufacture houses on a mass-production basis, Corbett predicted it will be able to deliver a home far better than anything we have now, and at a much lower figure.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Aug. 19, 1927.

Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti lost their fight to escape the electric chair for a double murder in a payroll holdup when the Massachusetts supreme court turned down their appeal.

Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Clark and daughters Mary and Mildred returned from a week's motor trip through Missouri and other points in the west.

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Mildred Burnside of Marion and C. Warren Klinefelter of New York City, to take place Sept. 14, was made at a party given by Miss Burnside's mother, Mrs. C. S. Burnside, assisted by Mr. Klinefelter's mother, Mrs. Harvey Klinefelter and Mrs. Edward Lauceus at the Burnside home on East Church street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Aug. 19, 1917.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Phillips of Meadow street.

Annual reunions of the Grant-Dal Zell-Furniss, Braden and Mack families were held at parks in Marion and the Simpson family reunion at Prospect.

The United Brethren Sunday school elected officers for the coming year, headed by Royal Martin as superintendent. Mr. Martin was returning to Marion from Westerville to take charge of athletics in the high school here.

The American Bloomer Girls baseball team played the Marion Questions before a crowd of 1,000 at Lincoln park and was defeated 16-9. Suchler and Uhl pitched for Marion and Worth and Weiler caught.

A group of Marion county Masons were in a class of 585 members of the order of this section of Ohio enlisted for war service who received the Scottish Rite degree in Columbus in recognition of their enlistment. In the Marion county group were Capt. George Knapp and Lt. Roy W. Gottschalk of Marion, Lt. B. B. Hurd of Caledonia, and Lts. Don Shira and C. Thuma of LaRue.

A delegation of Findlay Methodists came to Marion to invite Dr. Jesse Swank of Epworth church to the pastorate of the Findlay M. E. church. The trustees of Epworth church had already invited Dr. Swank to return here for another year and it was not expected that he would accept the Findlay call.

SYNOPSIS: When Neill, a young naval agent, gets to Baltimore on a week's vacation with his friends Janet won't break her date with Prescott Fanning. Angrily Neill says Fanning is too old for Janet, too slick and has too much money. They meet and part, Neill setting out to check up on Fanning. A fat little gray man, David Patton, tells him Fanning is "a lady's man." Neill finds Fanning at his hotel and strikes up a friendship. Jovial, chatty, shrewd questions but Fanning discloses only that he made money in Wall Street.

CHAPTER FOUR

In Fanning's Suite

"WHAT you doing tonight?" Fanning asked.

"Sitting alone, worse luck," said Neill.

"Nix. I'm having a little party, I need another man. I'd be glad to have you join us if the cut of your jib, Patton, that we see more of each other." Neill grinned inwardly at the thought of Janet's face when Fanning brought him to the party. It would be a pretty little revenge. "Certainly is nice of you to ask me," he said. "I haven't my evening clothes with me."

"Doesn't matter, my boy! The others will dress up, bless their hearts! But we don't have to. You're a good-looking young guy, by Jove, damned if you're not, and you'll be a credit to my party just as you are."

"Well, thanks a lot," said Neill. "Let's go up to my suite and have a drink. We can start our from here."

"Okay."

They paid for their drinks and went up in an elevator, Fanning chatting and laughing. At the same time there was a glitter in his pale eyes that spelled danger. It was his job had accustomed him to danger. He was armed.

Fanning's suite was one of the most expensive in the hotel. High above the street, it looked over the finer part of town and across the harbor to Federal hill. Neill noted that though Fanning presumably had occupied it for several weeks, there were no photographs or bric-a-brac, no personal belongings of any kind on display; nothing to give a line on the man's character.

They made themselves ready for the party, Fanning keeping up a running fire of humorous stories. Then they were slipping into their coats again, there was a knock at the door of the parlor. Fanning went to answer it, but held the door in such a manner that Neill could not see who was outside. A whispered conversation took place.

Mysterious Phone Call.

Presently Fanning opened the door further, but still Neill could not see who was on the other side of it. As the crack between door and frame widened, he had a sense that some body was giving him the once over.

The conversation continued. Although the voices were low, Neill detected that they were disputatious. Finally he heard Fanning say: "Well, you'll have to lump it!"....."Aah! I never thought it of this from you," rumbled the other voice sorely. "Shh!" said Fanning.

The other went out, pulling the door almost to behind him, and Neill heard the two of them walking away. Tiptoeing to the door, he put an eye to the crack and saw the two figures moving in close converse towards the elevators. They were gesticulating angrily. Fanning's visitor was a roughlooking man of enormous physical strength. His shoulders were so high they were bowed forward, and his big hands hung almost to his knees.

Neill retired from the door, leaving it exactly as he had found it. The telephone rang, and he picked it up. A man's voice said anxiously over the wire:

"That you, Pres?"

Neill subdued his voice to a husky whisper. "Right."

"What's the matter?" asked the other sharply.

"Nothing. There are others in the room here."

"Oh- I just wanted to tell you that everything is all right. The old girl hasn't squawked."

"Who did you say?"

"I say the old girl hasn't squawked."

"Good!"

"Shall I see you tomorrow as agreed?"

"Right. Where are you now?"

Again he drew a blank. "Read's drug store. So long."

"So long."

Neill hung up. Oyster might be what he said, but even the few words he had heard were enough to confirm the fact that Fanning was a crook! As yet however, he had secured no concrete evidence to lay before Janet. He looked around the room sharply. There was no time to make a search.

I saw a dangerous glitter in Fanning's dark eyes.

Fanning returned with his made-to-order laugh saying: "These darn realtors call on you at all hours. It's almost impossible to get rid of them."

"That's right," agreed Neill. He was thinking: "That was no realtor, old man!"

Fanning fetched a sealed bottle of Scotch from a cabinet. "We must have one last shot before we go," he said.

"Just a short one for me."

"This is something special," said Fanning. "A friend of mine brought it from abroad. Such whiskey as this is not ordinarily shipped to our country."

Neill was on his guard, but there seemed to be no danger in drinking from an unopened bottle, since Fanning was preparing to drink from the same bottle. Fanning took two glasses into the bathroom where he could be heard washing them. He brought them back still wet, and opened the bottle.

"When I get my own little place I'll have a cellar, Patton, stocked with the choicest wines and liquors that the world produces. I'm not a heavy drinker, but I must have the best." He poured two drinks. "Here's how," he said.

"Same to you," said Neill. He waited until he saw the liquor actually running down Fanning's throat, and then tossed off his own. Certainly it was superfine whiskey.

"Let's go," said Fanning.

His last act before leaving was to take a packet of 100 new $5 bills from a drawer of the bureau and drop it in his wallet. "Just an evening's pleasure," he said.

"Well, you're no pikar," said Neill.

They descended in the elevator and hailed a taxi at the door of the hotel. "To the Belvedere," Fanning said to the driver. "That's where we pick up the girls," he added to Neill.

From Hanover street they turned into Fayette and then into Charles. The pavements of Baltimore's best street were almost empty now. Fanning began to tell another funny story, but his voice seemed far away.

Neill felt great. He had never found the streets at evening so beautiful. A delicious languor was stealing through his limbs. He seemed to be reclining on a fleecy cloud that was being wafted away into space.

By a certain tone in Fanning's voice he realized that he had come to the point of his story, and he laughed politely. Fanning began another.

Meanwhile Neill was being wafted farther and farther away from all earthly cares. He passed into unconsciousness.

Neill finds Janet has gone with Fanning, tomorrow.

PASSING THE TABASCO

The trouble with a lot of our young married couples, like the trouble with most of our whiskies, is that they are too "green," and never get a chance to mellow before they are "distributed."

A sense of humor will do more to steer a girl safely through a counterfeit summer romance, than a sense of propriety. An incredulous laugh will put an over-confident go-getter in his place more quickly than a frozen frown.

Some homes seem to get smaller and smaller, to the point of suffocation, after marriage. Oh no, the house don't shrink—it's just that the arguments take up so much more room.

The greatest gamblers in the world are supposed to be men; but how about the women who have had two or three poor deals in the matrimonial game, and still call for another—with the luck running against them?

"Many an underpaid employe, expecting a raise in salary, has come out of the office with a smile on his face—without the raise, but with the title of "vice president," says a magazine article. Well, why not? You can get a combination cook-valet-housekeeper-and-nurse for the price of an inexpensive wedding ring, if you call her "The Missus." It's the prestige of the thing!

Some times the man who sends the bride the handsomest wedding present is the old flame who "got away"—and wants to show his gratitude.

Changing girls is about as exciting to a case-hardened philanderer as changing his collar—and far less thrilling than changing his golf sticks. He merely goes through the same old emotions from the first glance to the last sigh—like an actor playing the same role for the hundredth time.

It may sound paradoxical, but nothing chills a man's love so quickly as a woman's attempt to keep it at a permanently high temperature.
